

Mama, Do You See Me?

Graph Druckula

Jorge Virulazo, is the only one of the five sons who has continued to carry on the tango tradition of his famous father. In this picture he and the 12 year-old Yésica Améndola, who he trains, are performing for mama and relatives. Outstanding ability does not grow on trees. This fundamental motif is an attempt to explain why we think it is so important to train youths and why we have so much fun doing so. The Tango Factory's six masters of refrigeration engineering have trained more than 80 engineers. Two of whom became state champions.

¿Me ves, mamá?

Mama, do you see me?
